

Tweens, Teens & Technology Seminar

Feeling concerned about your child's use of social media and technology? Want to better understand the role of technology in young people's lives?

Tweens, Teens & Technology is a FREE seminar aimed at parents of 9 to 17 years and provides the opportunity to explore issues and concerns about technology use.

The seminar will discuss:

- What young people are using and why they are using it
- Current research about the risks and benefits
- Resources for better understanding what's out there
- How to talk to your child about technology including setting appropriate limits and boundaries
- How to have a whole family approach to technology.
